Connexus® FI

The fixed income markets have witnessed significant volatility recently. In the current market conditions, liquidity is fragile as investors have simultaneously reduced their tolerance to risk and are deleveraging. In this scenario, it is vital to have a diverse ecosystem of market participants and trading platforms so that buyers and sellers can find each other in a reliable and secure manner.

Connexus FI enables the following for fixed income securities:

- Over-the-counter voice trading
- Electronic trading
- A vast number platforms which aggregate liquidity and efficiently link potential buyers and sellers
- Investors to directly transact with each other
- Dealers to offset inventory more easily through a diverse ecosystem
- Improved price discovery
