

How to Partner with the Right Network Provider

3 Quick Tips to Consider

Given that, these days, all connectivity providers offer various flavors of ultra-low latency solutions, finding the right managed network provider can be hard. Below are key identifiers market participants should look for to find the right network provider:

1. Minimum Requirements

- Access to liquidity venues, market data providers and trading counter parties
- Access to routes in a single market
- Service quality

2. Competitive Differentiators

- Agility to adapt to the changing market conditions and evolving regulatory landscape
- An established global community with access to a variety of markets
- Access to the best and fastest routes to the market

3. Next Generation

- Variety of connectivity and consumption services whether that's on premise or via private, public or hybrid cloud delivery

Why Choose IPC?

At IPC, our mindset is to be the connector, and to help clients to generate alpha, lower costs, increase their global reach and maximize their efficiency by bringing them access to the wider financial markets community. IPC is proud to offer 100% availability and provide fully proactive monitoring of the network. As a firm that has been operating in this space for over 50 years, connecting people and connecting opportunities is in our DNA.

Connexus® ALPHA

Connect with us!

